Chief Executive Officer's

Update

Welcome to the Autumn 2021 Edition of the Devon in Sight Magazine - In Vision.

Throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, Devon in Sight has continued to provide services in creative and innovative ways.

In March 2020, at the start of the COVID-19 crisis, we had to cancel all our face-to-face work with clients including home visits and community based Talk and Support Groups.

Our Community Support Team contacted all our registered clients to ensure that they were getting the basics like shopping, prescriptions and information about local voluntary support services set up during Lockdown.

We introduced a weekly programme of Telephone Sight Loss Speaker Events, so that people isolating in their homes had access to speakers from across Health & Social Care and sight loss partner organisations.

We ensured that you all got up to date COVID-19 restriction information in a range of accessible formats by increasing the frequency of newsletters.

In October 2020 we developed a revised service strategy in response to the on-going crisis, which focused on the key areas that would make the biggest difference to the lives of people with sight loss for the remainder of the pandemic, and as we emerged from the other side.

The strategy focused on the three key areas of Early Intervention, Emotional Wellbeing and Complex & Crisis Case Support. We remind you of our current service offer in the pages of this magazine.

Continued...

The commitment of our staff during this crisis has been exemplary but working from home and being unable to undertake home visits and group meetings has proved difficult for our Community Support Workers.

Across the country people have been re-evaluating their lives and taking the decision to change jobs. Devon in Sight has not been immune to this phenomenon. In the last couple of months our three Community Support Workers Cathy Duffy, Tracey Agutter and Louise Camies have all decide to move on from the charity. They have all found new roles closer to their homes which fit with their personal circumstances and family commitments. Whilst we respect their decision to leave this presents us with challenges moving forward.

Our funding from the National Lottery Reaching Communities Fund came to an end in October 2020. This directly funded our Talk and Support Groups across Devon and replacing this income stream is proving challenging.

When I was writing our last newsletter it was our sincere hope that we would be starting a new programme of Talk and Support Groups across much of the county. In the present circumstances we will no be able to do this. We are however, looking at a programme of community based Sight Loss Events starting in 2022.

Our clients have experienced significant challenges during the pandemic and will continue to face these as restrictions continue to lift; many will need support to re-build their confidence in leaving their homes and to improve their physical and emotional wellbeing after isolating at home for so long.

“It is really important that we create positive outcomes from the storm of the COVID-19 pandemic.”

The good news is that we will be maintaining our Helpline and you will all be able to access our Information, Advice and Guidance Service, Emotional Wellbeing Service, the Equipment Bursary Fund and the Assistive Technology Partnership.

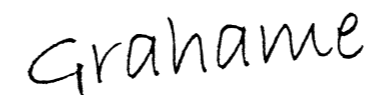

Radical transformations will be required to overcome the challenges the charity is facing, and are necessary to keep pace with the economic, social and structural changes we are experiencing.

Nationally, we are sharing our experiences of the COVID-19 pandemic and the positive changes it has had on our services with our partners in the sight loss sector. These changes will have a positive effect on the future support and services offered to people who are blind and partially sighted in Devon.

It is really important that we create positive outcomes from the storm of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Please be assured that our Board of Trustees and Staff are all working hard to ensure that our clients are not left behind, and receive the support required at the time they need it.

Onwards and upwards!

Staff Changes

▲ Judy Pride

It is with huge sadness that we have to report that our Sight Loss Advisers Cathy Duffy, Tracey Agutter and Louise Camies have all taken the decision to leave the charity. You may have met them at our Talk and Support Groups or during home visits.

During the COVID-19 pandemic employees across the country have been re-evaluating their work/life balance and taking the opportunity to look for new roles that fit in with their new lives.

With the end of our National Lottery Funding the charity is at a crossroads. Naturally, they thought this was the right time to move on. We were very sad to hear that they wanted a change but respect their decisions.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank them for their magnificent contribution to Devon in Sight's work. We wish them luck in their new roles.

“I am passionate about providing high quality sight loss services across Devon.”

Judy Pride

We are pleased to announce that Judy Pride will be joining the Devon in Sight staff team in November 2021.

Judy has been one of our trustees for a number of years but most of you will know her as the Regional Manager for the South West Macular Society.

Prior to joining Macular Society, Judy was a Community Fundraiser for Children's Hospice South West where she helped secure funds to build a new Children's Hospice for Cornwall and Plymouth.

She has a wealth of experience within the charity sector with the added bonus of working with people who are blind and partially sighted across the region.

Judy says, “I am passionate about providing high quality sight loss services across Devon. I have worked with Devon in Sight's CEO Grahame Flynn, on a strategic level and I am looking forward to working with him to review our operational service offer and sustainability plans at this particularly challenging time”.

We are delighted to have attracted someone of Judy's experience and calibre, to join the Devon in Sight Team.

96th Annual General Meeting

Dr Adrian Jacobs, Chair of the Board of Trustees cordially invites you to Devon in Sight's 96th Annual General Meeting on Friday 15th October 2021 at 10am.

The Charity Commission has authorised registered charities to hold their Annual General Meetings online again this year to prevent the spread of the COVID-19 virus.

Naturally, we're disappointed not to be able to see you in person, but holding the event online means that you can hear the same presentations, from the safety and comfort of your own home. We realise that many of you do not use computers and will not be able to join us. However, we will advise you of major developments in the next edition of In Vision Magazine. It is hoped that we will be able to resume our regular Annual General Meetings in person next year.

If you use a computer and would like to join the meeting online please use the link in the yellow box. Alternatively, email us on enquiries@devoninsight.org.uk and we will send you the link in an email.

During the AGM we will approve the minutes of the AGM for 2020 and hear reports from our Chair Dr Adrian Jacobs, CEO Grahame Flynn and Treasurer Mr Steve Muncer.

This year we will give an update on our achievements during the National Lottery Reaching Communities Funded Project which came to an end last October, our response to the COVID-19 pandemic and the challenges we are facing during these extraordinary times. The AGM is one of the many ways that we hear from our stakeholders. Keeping 'user voice' at the heart of our charity will ensure that we continue to do the very best for people with sight loss in Devon.

People in the Lead

Devon Sight Loss Forum

Dianna Hardy

Our aim here at Devon in Sight is to help people who are blind or partially sighted to live life to the full, and we do that by providing a range of services which offer both practical help, emotional support, and opportunities for groups of people to meet and support each other.

In the last edition of In Vision Magazine we invited you to help us shape the future of our services as we learn to live in a world with COVID-19.

“The Devon Sight Loss Forum will be a valuable opportunity for people with sight loss to influence change.”

As we move into the next stage of the charity’s development we are keen to increase opportunities for you to get more involved in shaping our services and reviewing how we are doing, so we are therefore setting up a Devon Sight Loss Forum.

The Devon Sight Loss Forum will be a valuable opportunity for people with sight loss to influence change within Devon in Sight and sight loss services in Devon.

To make the forum as accessible as possible for people across the county we will use the same telephone-based system that has been popular for our Telephone Speaker Events.

We will be holding our first Devon Sight Loss Forum on Tuesday 14th December 2021 (10.30am -11.30am). Please see page 22.

If you would prefer to talk to us on a one to one basis we can also arrange to give you a quick call to chat through some ideas and to hear what you think - it’s as easy as that - but would be really valuable for us as a charity.

Keeping ‘user voice’ at the heart of our charity will ensure that we continue to do the very best for people with sight loss in Devon. We would love to hear from anyone who would like to contribute to the Forum.

▲ Sight Village in 2018

Sight Village South West

Sight Village South West which was due to return to Sandy Park Conference Centre, Exeter in September 2021 was postponed due to on-going concerns regarding COVID-19.

The organiser, Queen Alexandra College has announced that the event will now take place on Tuesday 26 April 2022.

Devon in Sight will be exhibiting at the event alongside many of our local, regional and national partners. For those that have not attended Sight Village before this is a great opportunity to meet representatives of sight loss services and equipment manufacturers from across the United Kingdom.

We will publish registration details in the New Year Edition of In Vision Magazine.

“Please remember...You are not alone.”

Vision North Somerset

We were devastated to hear that our friend and colleague Nina Farr passed away in July in tragic circumstances.

Nina became the Chief Executive of Vision North Somerset in September 2019 and was an active member of the South West Associations Network which is chaired by Devon in Sight's CEO Grahame Flynn.

Grahame said, “Nina was such a lovely woman who had worked at Vision North Somerset for many years before taking over the role of Chief Executive Officer. We worked together on the South West Associations Network which has made such a huge difference to sight loss services across the South West of England.

She will be greatly missed for her enthusiasm and commitment to the voluntary sector and to the service of blind and partially sighted people in particular.

I represented Devon in Sight and members of the South West Associations Network at Nina's funeral which was packed. Our thoughts and condolences are with the trustees and staff of Vision North Somerset and all of Nina's family and friends.”

We would urge anyone who is finding life difficult to speak to a colleague, close friend or contact the Samaritans.

Rest in Peace.

Sidmouth Art Exhibition

Artwork by visually impaired Devon in Sight clients created a stir in Sidmouth!

On Wednesday 21 July 2021, Sidmouth Museum hosted a special reception to celebrate an art project which took place in 2018 long before anyone had heard of COVID-19!

The art exhibition was only made possible with the easing of the Government's COVID-19 restrictions. The informal private viewing was for the participants, artists, funders and friends and family.

The art work exhibited was created as part of a project called From Tree to Sea, a collaboration between East Devon Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and Thelma Hulbert Gallery which included many activities out and about across the region.

“Artwork by visually impaired Devon in Sight clients created a stir in Sidmouth!”

Artists engaged in the wider From Tree to Sea project worked with a group of Devon in Sight adults with little vision at Twyford House to create art works work in mixed media.

For many of the participants it was the first time they had created art since school.

Devon in Sight's Tracey Agutter was delighted to meet up with the participants in the project after so many months.

Joan Hardy (96) summed up the experience by simply saying, “It's wonderful!”

The reception was a valuable opportunity for Devon in Sight's CEO Grahame Flynn to meet with the people involved in the project and to thank the funders for their support.

Grahame said, “Many people who develop sight loss in later life stop participating in creative hobbies. But with good task lighting and support they can re-engage with some very therapeutic activities such as art and reading.”

We gratefully acknowledge the support of the Keith Owen Fund through the Sid Vale Association and Thelma Hulbert Gallery for this project.

Emotional Wellbeing Service

We know from national research, and from what our clients tell us, that being blind or partially sighted has a significant impact on people's independence and emotional wellbeing.

The COVID-19 pandemic has increased the emotional impact on people with sight loss. Many need support rebuilding their confidence to leave their homes after isolating for so long.

In response to these challenges we started a pilot Emotional Wellbeing Service to support people with sight loss who live in Devon.

Based on our experience of this service over the past 10 months, the biggest impact of our Emotional Wellbeing Service is helping people come to terms with the emotional impact of their sight loss and preventing the deterioration of people's wellbeing and independence.

“Our support helps people adapt to their sight loss, not to feel alone, and to regain their self-esteem.”

Common areas of difficulties for those clients we have supported have been; unexpected sight loss diagnosis, anxiety around sight loss diagnosis and deterioration of sight, isolation and loneliness. Very often people don't want to burden their family and friends with their concerns and have found the support from someone outside of their immediate circle supportive and helpful.

We are able to support people using our service by offering a Wellbeing Telephone Call. This call is an opportunity to discuss in confidence anything that is troubling a person which is related to their sight loss.

Thanks to some generous donors we have funding to refer people to local Accredited Counsellors, if this is something that is felt would be beneficial. We can provide 6 one hour free sessions. These Counsellors have been trained by the RNIB so have an awareness and appreciation of working with people with sight loss.

Clients report our support helps them to adapt to their sight loss, not to feel alone, and to regain their self-esteem. Our ability to provide counselling support immediately (the RNIB counselling waiting list is 6 months) means crisis situations have been averted and our clients' wellbeing has been hugely improved.

This service is available to anyone registering with Devon in Sight, who lives in Devon and has a diagnosed sight loss condition.

Equipment Bursary Fund

▲ A Talking Communiclock

At the height of the COVID-19 restrictions we started our Equipment Bursary Fund. This allows us to provide our clients with some popular independent living equipment for free.

Since the Equipment Bursary Fund started in November 2020 we have supported 107 clients with 297 items of equipment to the value of £3,810.25.

One of the items available through the fund is the RNIB Communiclock. The clock announces the time and date in RNIB's natural English, male voice at the touch of a button.

The clock is radio controlled, which means it receives a signal from the radio transmitter in Anthorn, Cumbria, which enables the time and date to be set automatically. This is particularly useful when the clocks change in the spring and summer.

“Thank you for my Audio Player... it is wonderful! I didn't know these things existed.”

Items available under the scheme include:

- Task Lighting for reading
- Liquid Level Indicators*
- Tactile Bumpons
- Devon in Sight Signature Guides
- Smartlite easy to see Analogue Alarm Clocks
- Communiclock - Talking Calendar Clocks
- Sonic 2 USB Memory Stick Players for Audio Books
- Voice Activated Smart Speakers (Very limited supply)
- Partially Sighted Badges
- Hidden Disabilities Sunflower Lanyards and Visual Impairment ID cards
- Devon Access Travel Wallets
- Trading Standards 'No Cold Callers' Window Stickers

*Please note: Liquid Level Indicators are only made available to people who have been trained to use them as a replacement or under close supervision of a friend or relative.

Many of the beneficiaries of this service have gone on to make one off donations or have set up a regular monthly donation by becoming a Friends of Devon in Sight. This helps top up the fund to maintain this highly valuable service.

Assistive Technology Partnership

In January 2021 we started our Assistive Technology Partnership with Sight and Sound Technology Ltd., the UK and Ireland's leading supplier and master distributor of hardware and software to the blind, visually impaired and those with learning and reading difficulties.

Whilst Devon in Sight can't endorse any particular product, we do like to keep you up to date with some of the latest innovative technology that has come to the market.

Introducing OrCam Read

OrCam Read is a personal artificial intelligence (AI) driven device unlike any other, for anyone who is consistently exposed to large amounts of text - at work and school, or for leisure - and can even assist people with mild visual impairment, or reading difficulties including dyslexia and reading fatigue.

"OrCam Read could help transform the way you read."

People who have moderate to severe levels of visual impairment would have difficulties using the device.

The OrCam Read can be used in any environment, including low-light, and without requiring any internet connectivity. The device can be easily used to read any kind of printed or digital text, at home, in the office, or on the go.

It requires the user to be able to hear, with or without a hearing device. OrCam Read also requires the user to have full control over their hand movements.

OrCam Read has been recognised with the top 2021 Consumer Technology Association, Best of Innovation Award, in the Accessibility category

Tony Shrubbs, the South West Territory Manager says, "OrCam has won numerous global awards for its highly advanced, personal AI technology. OrCam Read has already been described as "an exceptional on demand tool to access print in work, education and community settings."

If you would like to arrange for a demonstration of OrCam Read we can refer you into Sight and Sound through our Assistive Technology Partnership.

Sight Loss MOT Update

In 2016 we developed a new Assessment and Outcome Framework called the Sight Loss MOT to ensure that everyone who comes to Devon in Sight gets the very best support.

Based on national research and best practice, the Sight Loss MOT looks at over 50 key issues; such as making sure that people understand their diagnosis, have access to the right statutory care, access to independent living equipment and the latest assistive technology, social activities, financial support and emotional support. The Sight Loss MOT has had a powerful impact on the people we support here in Devon.

The MOT has now been adopted by over 20 local sight loss charities across the United Kingdom who have also been keen to improve the quality of their services and evidence the impact of their work.

It was a natural progression for us to start looking at a specific version of the Sight Loss MOT for Children, Young People and their families (CYPF). This version reflects the different care and support available to children and young people with sight loss, and provides information and resources to help people navigate issues around Special Needs Education, and the transition into work and independent living.

The draft framework was developed in partnership with Laura Hughes of Moorvision, a Devon-based charity providing a range of support to children and young people affected by sight loss, and their families. We have completed a consultation with national sight loss partners and work will start shortly on a Devon specific framework in consultation with local partners.

The National Visionary Conference 2021

We are delighted to have been invited to share our work at the National Visionary Conference in November with delegates from across the Sight Loss Sector. Visionary is a membership organisation of over 110 local sight loss organisations and 20 national partners. They connect organisations with each other, develop their skills and organisational health and share information and best practice from across their network.

We would like to thank Thomas Pocklington Trust for their financial support with this project.
