Chief Executive Officer's

Welcome

Welcome to the Winter Edition of In Vision Magazine.

Our little band of staff and volunteers have been working tirelessly to provide our existing portfolio of services whilst also trying to innovate and develop new strands of work.

We celebrated our achievements at our Centenary Celebration Dinner and the Third Devon Sight Loss Conference held in September. You can read more about these events in the coming pages.

One of the highlights of our celebrations was to be able to share, with everyone, the letter I had received from His Royal Highness The King. We have reproduced it over the page for you.

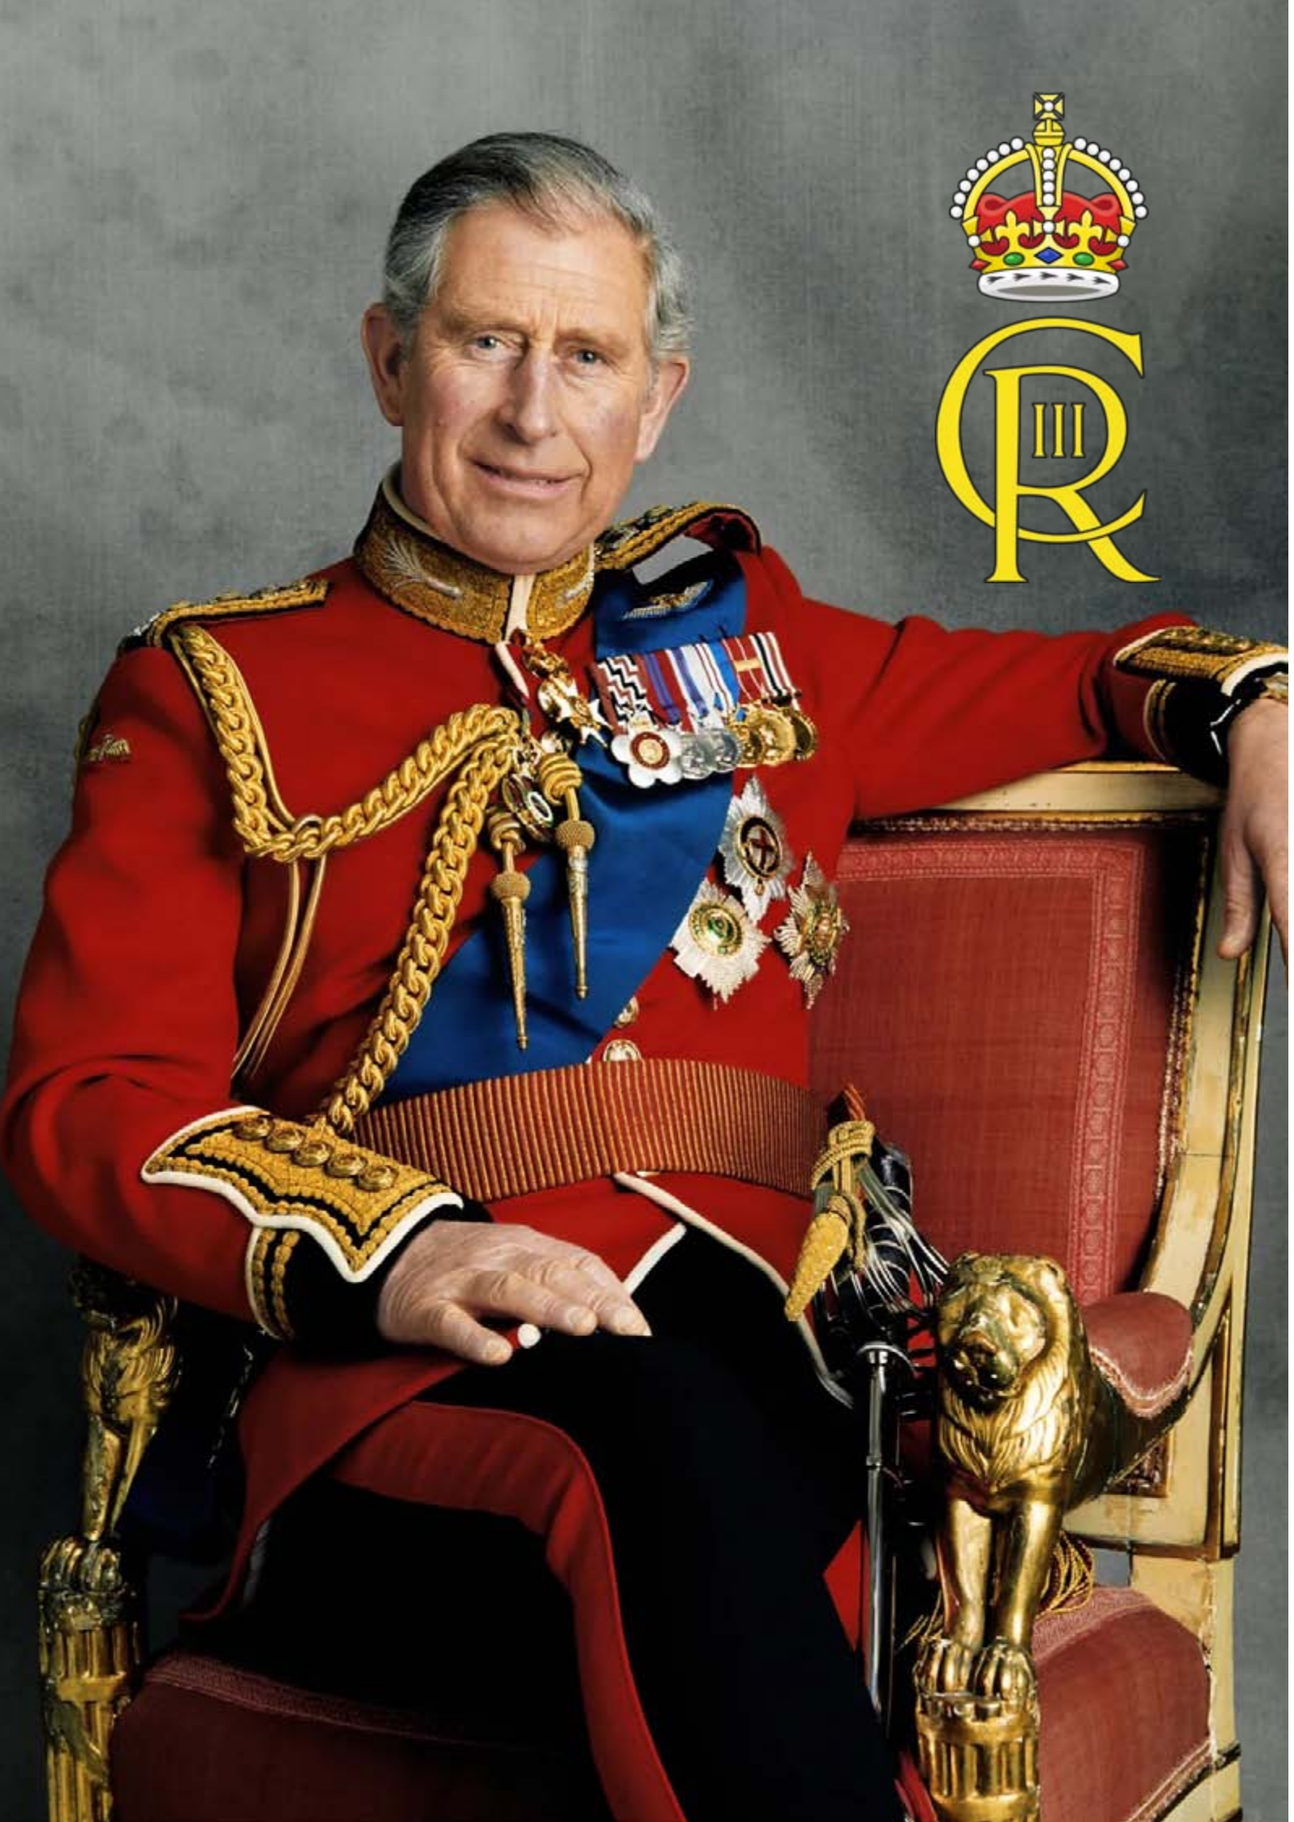

Our achievements over the last century were also celebrated when our key note speaker Steve Darling MP presented us with a framed copy of his Early Day Motion for Devon in Sight. It was incredibly touching to read, so again, we have reproduced the document in the pages of this magazine.

In late September we attended the National Visionary Conference in Birmingham where we had been shortlisted for the National Customer Excellence Award for our Counselling Service. Did we win? Read on to find out more.

Brimming with pride, I would like to thank everyone at Devon in Sight, past and present for their dedication over the last century in supporting people with little or no sight and their families in Devon.

Thank you!

Grahame Flynn
Chief Executive Officer

21st August, 2025

Dear Graham,

The King has asked me to thank you for your kind letter of loyal greetings sent on behalf of Devon in Sight on the occasion of your 100th Anniversary which is being held on 17th September, 2025.

His Majesty appreciated your thoughtfulness in writing as you did and, in return, has asked me to send his heartfelt warm good wishes to all those who will be present for a most memorable event.

Yours sincerely,
James Dawson

Centenary Celebration Dinner

Celebrating 100 years of service to people living with sight loss in Devon!

▲ Guests gather for the Reception in the Nelson Suite

On Wednesday 17th September 2025 Devon in Sight hosted a Centenary Celebration Dinner at the Exeter Rougemont Hotel.

The evening commenced with a drinks reception in the Nelson Suite before moving to the Victorian splendour of the Cavendish Ballroom.

Our patron Lady Diana Devon welcomed everyone to our centenary celebration. She explained that the principle aim was to host an enjoyable evening of good food and company whilst highlighting the outstanding work being conducted by Devon in Sight's team.

▲ Lady Devon

Master of Ceremonies, Devon in Sight's CEO Grahame Flynn gave an overview of the history of the charity from its formation in 1925 to the present day.

Many guests didn't appreciate that County Associations for the Blind were born out of adversity, further compounded by the horrors of World War One. The Blind People's March of 1920 led to the Blind Persons Act of 1920, the first disability-specific legislation in the world, compelling local authorities to ensure the welfare of blind persons and reduced the pension age for blind men.

▲ Grahame Flynn

Grahame then gave an overview of the impact of sight loss and the extensive portfolio of services available to people with little of no sight in Devon in the 21st Century.

Devon in Sight's long term client and Sight Loss Ambassador Steve Darling MP gave an empowering speech highlighting the benefits of Devon in Sights award-winning work.

He concluded his talk by presenting Grahame with a framed Early Day Motion.

The Early Day Motion is reproduced on pages 18-21.

Centenary Celebration Dinner

Celebrating 100 years of service to people living with sight loss in Devon!

Freemasons have supported local charities like Devon in Sight for many years.

Following the main course Dr Leo Clarke the Past Worshipful Master of St. George's Lodge, Exeter read the letter from His Majesty The King before giving The Loyal Toast.

St. George's Lodge recently helped us fund The Fearnside Counselling Room at Splatford Barton.

▲ Dr Leo Clarke

A Centenary Toast to Devon in Sight was given by Mr Adrian Garrity the Worshipful Master of All Souls Lodge, Tiverton.

Adrian made Devon in Sight his Charity of the Year during his term of office holding many fundraising events including a Burns Night Supper where our CEO Grahame Flynn was guest speaker.

Adrian then presented Grahame with a cheque for £3,300 from the All Souls Lodge and the Province of Devonshire 300 Club.

▲ Adrian Garrity

Our Centenary Raffle included some very generous prizes including a Love to Shop Gift Card, meal vouchers for the Babbacombe Inn, The Bedford Hotel and The Cary Arms and Spa, and family tickets for The Dartmouth Steam Railway, The National Aquarium and the gardens at RHS Rosemoor.

We would like to thank everyone who supported our raffle with donations.

Our Community Champion Awards highlight the excellent service given to our clients by individuals and organisations.

▲ Raffle Prize

It was very fitting that Lady Devon should present our Centenary Community Champion Award to Brandon Hulcoop of All Things Dotty.

All Things Dotty is a multi-award-winning business specialising in all thing's braille and accessible.

They offer a thoughtful and ever-growing range of braille gifts and accessible products designed to bring joy, independence, and creativity to people with visual impairments.

Brandon is an inspiration to other young blind entrepreneurs.

Centenary Celebration Dinner

Celebrating 100 years of service to people living with sight loss in Devon!

Our Centenary Auction benefited from some outstanding lots.

These included some House of Lords Premier Cru Champagne kindly donated by Steve Darling MP, tickets to the Exeter Chiefs, a Handcrafted Chacuterie Board and wooden bowls crafted by Dr Adrian Jacobs, and a number of signed books by Sir Michael Morpurgo OBE.

Other lots included an Exeter Racecourse Voucher, a framed photographic print of Dartmoor by Robert Excell Photography and a Golfing Experience for four people at Warren Golf Club.

Our Treasurer Steve Muncer and his wife Jan, kindly donated a seven night stay in their holiday cottage in the Willingcott Valley, Woolacombe.

Bidding was fierce and over £1,500 was raised.

We would like to thank all those people who donated lots for the auction thereby supporting Devon in Sight's work.

The Third Devon Sight Loss Conference took place at the Exeter Rougemont Hotel in central Exeter on Thursday 18th September 2025. This has become the premier event for the people affected by sight loss and professionals working in the field of vision impairment in Devon.

Grahame Flynn, Devon in Sight's Chief Executive Officer welcomed the 97 delegates to the Conference introducing the theme '100 Years of Devon in Sight: Building a Better Future'.

He said, "This conference is designed not only for people affected by sight loss, but also all those people who provide sight loss support services locally. We have therefore planned a busy programme of inspirational speakers and seminars, consultation rooms and a comprehensive Living Well with Sight Loss Exhibition of partners who can all help you build a better future."

The programme of events commenced with a fireside interview with Steve Darling MP and his wife Devon in Sight's Mandy Darling. The inspirational interview hosted by Grahame covered their early lives, education, the challenges of living and working with visual impairment, family life and their roles in local politics. Mandy talked about becoming the Mayor of Torbay in 2018. Steve was able to share some interesting stories about the 2024 election and his experiences as a new Member of Parliament.

The interview concluded with a raffle which included a hamper of kindly donated goodies and a Ruby Handheld Magnifier donated by Sight and Sound Technology.

After the raffle we launched into our 100th Annual General Meeting which is summarised on pages 14 & 15.

Our Living Well with Sight Loss Exhibition sported 24 stands this year making it the biggest exhibition of its type outside of London. Our friends at Devon and Torbay Sensory Teams and the Retina Clinic London providing consultation rooms again this year where delegates could have one to one time with specialists in rehabilitation and clinical research and trials.

Our conference was only made possible by the generous support of our sponsors The Retina Clinic London, Sight and Sound Technology Ltd. and SpaMedica Exeter.

▲ Annual General Meeting Audience

Devon in Sight's 100th Annual General Meeting was the main business meeting of the day where the minutes of last year's meeting were approved by the Voting Membership and reports were received from our Chair Dr Adrian Jacobs, CEO Grahame Flynn and Treasurer Steve Muncer.

Adrian said, "This is a special year, marking 100 years of Devon in Sight's service to the sight loss community in Devon. I would like to thank the staff team for their hard work, dedication, and professionalism in delivering our services.

May I express my sincere appreciation for the invaluable contribution that volunteers make to our organisation, particularly my fellow Trustees and our Assistant Treasurer Linda Garaway who dedicate their time and skills freely.

I would particularly like to acknowledge those people who have undertaken a fundraising event for us, make a regular gift through 'The Friends of Devon in Sight' and those who have left us legacies. The charity's success relies on the continued support and engagement from all our stakeholders. May I thank donors and supporters for their generosity and commitment to the charity's cause.

May I also take this opportunity to acknowledge the courage and resilience of people living with sight loss who inspire the charity's work. We appreciate those who have shared their lived experience of sight loss for the benefit of others through our Sight Loss Forum, as Sight Loss Ambassadors, Peer Support Groups, through the Client Satisfaction Survey and sharing their personal stories in the form of case studies.

Finally, I would also like to commend the significant contribution that our Chief Executive Officer Grahame Flynn has made in driving forward change for the benefit of people living with sight loss locally, regionally and nationally.

I wish my successor Scott Bailey every success as your new Chair following his inauguration today. It has been an honour to serve as Chair, and I am deeply grateful for the trust placed in me."

At the conclusion of the meeting our Voting Members unanimously agreed the special resolution that Dr Adrian Jacobs should be made a Life Member of Devon in Sight.

The full Annual Report and Accounts can be found on our website under ABOUT US. You can also request a printed copy through the Helpline.

Seminars Review

‘100 Years of Devon in Sight: Building a Better Future’

Sight and Sound Technology, Devon in Sight’s Assistive Technology Partner provided the first seminar of the conference.

Development and Partnerships Manager Iain Kennedy introduced delegates to the latest innovations in assistive technology including the NOA mobility vest and the Luna Glasses.

Sight & Sound are your one-stop-shop for all your assistive technology needs.

▲ Iain Kennedy

Professor Paulo Eduardo Stanga is the Founder & Director, and Lead Consultant Vitreoretinal & Cataract Surgeon at The Retina Clinic London and Professor of Ophthalmology at the Institute of Ophthalmology, University College London (UCL).

Professor Stanga gave an insightful presentation about Gene Therapy and it’s applications for sight loss and the latest clinical research and trails.

Alyson Badnell, Sensory Team Manager, Visual Impairment, Devon County Council gave an overview of the role of a Rehabilitation Officer Visual Impairment (ROVI).

ROVIs can carry out assessments to discuss difficulties or needs and identify solutions to help you to stay at home and be as independent as possible. ROVIs can help you learn new skills to offset the effects of visual impairment. ROVIs can help you Register your sight loss.

▲ Alyson Badnell

The final seminar was hosted by Amba Steen, Hospital Manager for SpaMedica Hospital Exeter.

SpaMedica is one of the leading providers of NHS eye patient services. Delegates were able to learn more about their NHS ophthalmology services and what is involved in modern cataract surgery.

We would like to thank all our speakers at conference.

An Early Day Motion for Devon in Sight

Parliamentary support for our work in Devon for people living with little or no sight.

As part of our Centenary Dinner Celebration and Sight Loss Conference we were delighted to be presented with a framed Early Day Motion (EDM) by our special guest Steve Darling MP.

Early Day Motions (EDMs) are motions submitted for debate in the House of Commons for which no day has been fixed.

As there is no specific time allocated to EDMs very few are debated. However, many attract a great deal of public interest and media coverage. EDMs are used to put on record the views of individual MPs or to draw attention to specific events or campaigns. Topics covered by EDMs vary widely.

By attracting the signatures of other MPs, they can be used to demonstrate the level of parliamentary support for a particular cause or point of view.

We have presented the original document over the page but the words are reproduced here in large print. The document is printed on House of Commons headed note paper and reads...

100th Anniversary of Devon in Sight
Early Day Motion 1790
Tabled at the House of Commons on 1st September 2025

That this House congratulates Devon in Sight in its centenary year, marking 100 years of dedicated service to those living with the challenges of sight loss across Devon.

It notes the charity's proud history since its foundation in 1925 as the Devon County Association for the Welfare of the Blind, recognises the profound impact it has made in supporting numerous people living with a visual impairment to live life to the full.

It commends the commitment and leadership of the charity's Chair, Dr Adrian Jacobs, the Trustees and Chief Executive Officer, Grahame Flynn, whose passion and vision have continued to drive the charity forward in an ever-changing health and social care landscape.

It pays tribute to the invaluable work of the charity's dedicated staff, volunteers, and supporters, past and present, whose tireless efforts have underpinned a century of life-changing support and advocacy.

The House recognises the charity's person-centred approach and its pioneering work in providing information, advice and guidance, promoting health and wellbeing, independent living and influencing change locally, regionally and nationally.

It also acknowledges the vital partnerships Devon in Sight has built with local authorities, health and social care professionals, charities and community groups to ensure the needs of those with visual impairments are properly met.

It calls on the Government to continue to recognise the critical role played by charities such as Devon in Sight in building inclusive, supportive communities and ensuring that no one living with sight loss in Devon is left behind.

The Early Day Motion was signed by Steve Darling MP for Torbay, Ian Roome MP for North Devon, Rachel Gilmour MP for Tiverton and Minehead, Caroline Voaden MP for South Devon, Martin Wrigley MP for Newton Abbot and Richard Foorde MP for Honiton and Sidmouth.

Devon in Sight's CEO Grahame Flynn said, "To have our centenary commemorated in this way was really rather special. I would like to thank Steve Darling for recognising our work with an Early Day Motion.

It was so important to highlight all the staff, volunteers and supporters who have provided support over the last century and the charity's ongoing impact locally, regionally and nationally.

It was rather fitting to be able to present our outgoing Chair Dr Adrian Jacobs with his own copy of the Early Day Motion as a momento of his decade of service to Devon in Sight."

Understanding the role that our Trustees play in the work of Devon in Sight

▲ Outgoing Chair Dr Adrian Jacobs at our Splatford office

Our Trustees are recruited to support our Chief Executive Officer with the leadership of the organisation. They are enlisted for their skills and experience to ensure that charity has the best people in place to oversee and ensure the future direction of our services and the implementation of our strategic objectives.

In essence, the Board of Trustees oversee the strategic direction of the charity, fundraising strategy and resource development, business and financial planning, quality and performance standards, legal compliance within Charity and Company Law and promotion of the service.

Dr Adrian Jacobs

At our Annual General Meeting we bid a fond farewell to our long standing Trustee and Chair Dr Adrian Jacobs. Adrian joined Devon in Sight in 2015 and became Chair in March 2017.

In recognition of his sterling service to the governance of the charity it was unanimously agreed to make Adrian a Life Member of Devon in Sight. This is the highest honour we can bestow.

Mr Scott Bailey

Our new Chair, Scott Bailey joined the Board in 2018. He is the Primary Care Digital Programme Manager for Devon NHS Clinical Commissioning Group. He has a wealth of knowledge and experience in the private and statutory sector. He was previously Business Development Manager of the Medical Eye Clinic in Exeter and worked in several different roles with NEW Devon NHS Clinical Commissioning Group, including as a lead on Ophthalmology.

Alvis Merrall-Spiers

Alvis is the newest addition to the Devon in Sight team having had a successful career in Social Care.

She has a profound understanding of sight loss, having been registered as blind due to Macular Degeneration.

Alvis often feels she has experienced “life from both sides now” which has given her a uniquely empathetic and comprehensive perspective on the challenges and difficulties associated with sight loss, making her an extremely valued member in our board of trustees.

Matrix Standard Accreditation Maintained

Devon in Sight has maintained its Matrix Standard Accreditation for another year.

▲ The Centenary Staff Team at Conference in September

Devon in Sight is committed to providing accurate and impartial Information, Advice and Guidance to people who are affected by sight loss and other stakeholders such as professionals working in Health & Social Care and the Third Sector.

Matrix Standard Accreditation is an international quality standard for organisations that deliver information, advice, and guidance (IAG) services. It is owned by the UK's Department for Education.

Achieving this standard demonstrates a commitment to high-quality service delivery, continuous improvement, and helps us meet mandatory requirements for certain government-funded contracts.

The accreditation is awarded after an independent assessor verifies that the organisation meets the standard's criteria, which cover areas like leadership, resources, service delivery, and continuous quality improvement.

Devon in Sight first attained the Matrix Standard in 2023. Following comprehensive reporting on all our front-line services, in August we had our formal Annual Continuous Improvement Check with a Matrix Standard Accreditation Inspector. We are pleased to announce that Devon in Sight has maintained its Matrix Standard for another year.

Holding the Matrix Standard offers organisations several advantages:

- Improved quality and performance: It provides a framework for reviewing and developing services to ensure they meet best practices.
- Competitive advantage: It serves as a quality mark that demonstrates a commitment to excellence, which can attract more clients and be a requirement for contracts and funding.
- Enhanced reputation: Independent validation builds trust with service users, partners, and stakeholders.
- Continuous improvement: Accreditation lasts for three years, with annual "Continuous Improvement Checks" to ensure standards are maintained and services continue to develop.

Devon in Sight's CEO Grahame Flynn said, "This is of great credit for us all, but I would like to thank Tessa Barrett our Head of Services for taking the lead on completing the evaluation process."

National Visionary Conference

▲ Fiona Hess, Mandy Darling and Guide Dog Pepsi

Visionary is the national membership organisation for local sight loss charities.

Through the Visionary Network of over 110 local member organisations and 28 national partners, they connect organisations with each other, develop their skills and organisational health and share information and best practice from across the network.

Devon in Sight's CEO Grahame Flynn explains, "The Visionary Conference was held over 24th and 25th September in Birmingham. It is the key sight loss event for networking, learning, and peer support. It was lovely to give Louise Millington, Mandy Darling and Fiona Hess the experience of attending their first one as part of their personnal development."

Devon in Sight: Influencing change locally, regionally and nationally!

Louise said, "As a Helpline Advisor, attached to a telephone and desk, I don't get out much! So, when Gray invited me to go to the Visionary Conference this year in his place, I was both nervous but excited. To have the opportunity to meet peers working in the same field as myself, share good practice and learn from others was something I really wanted to engage with. The setting, as part of Aston University, Birmingham, was buzzing. I was able to attend four training workshops that would equip me with new knowledge as well as promote new ways of thinking to bring back to the team. My workshops included 'Cracking the Code of Health Sector Speak' followed by 'Starting and Sustaining Services for Children' which was really helpful - we heard case studies that will inform us going forward with our children and young people services. On day two I attended 'Building Safe Spaces for lived experience' and another on Unlocking the Potential of AI Wearable Technology' with lots of positives for the future.

Mandy added, "I participated in a number of useful and interesting workshops. The first explored what makes good collaboration, including building trust and the sharing of ideas. The second session focused on what funders require when receiving grant applications. It provided excellent guidance on what to include in funding bids. I found this session extremely helpful as it allowed direct insight from funders. Another workshop focused on the practical lessons for Artificial intelligence (AI) for the Third Sector. It was exciting and innovative. Presenters emphasised adopting AI as a valuable tool for charities, but stressed the importance of proper training on various models. My favourite workshop and the most beneficial examined various types of popular and effective fundraising and provided several leads for me to follow up."

Devon in Sight would like to thank the team at Visionary for yet another inspiring conference.

National Customer Excellence Award

Celebrating outstanding dedication to service, support and care!

At the Visionary Conference Awards Dinner in September Devon in Sight won the National Customer Excellence Award, sponsored by Guide Dogs UK, which celebrated outstanding dedication to service, support and care within the Visionary network.

This award invited nominations which showcased the exceptional commitment of the Visionary Membership to meeting client need, creating accessible experiences, and delivering support with empathy and professionalism.

Our Sight Loss Counselling Service was initiated during the COVID-19 pandemic to provide more in-depth emotional support. Our success stems from strong collaborations. We receive essential referrals from organisations such as Guide Dogs, RNIB, Eye Clinic Liaison Officers, Social Prescribers, and Rehabilitation Officers from the Sensory Team.

We work with highly experienced counsellors who specialise in supporting people with health issues and disabilities. They have also received RNIB accredited training around sight loss awareness and counselling people with sight loss.

The impact of our counselling service has been phenomenal. In the pilot, 100% of the people who completed the six closed sessions demonstrated a clinically significant change evidencing recovery or improvement.

Beneficiaries of our Counselling Service have subsequently entered our Employment Support Service called ‘Works for Me’ in partnership with Thomas Pocklington Trust. Designed for young and working aged people they receive support into volunteering, further education and work.

Devon in Sight marked its centenary by expanding our services to include a new Children and Young People’s Counselling Service. The new service empowers young people affected by sight loss to take ownership of their emotions and find balance, allowing them, when they are ready, to share their feelings with others in a way that feels safe and authentic.

Louise said, “As the presenter began to talk about the winning Charity having four pillars of support, I just knew it was us.

I felt very proud to go up, with Mandy, Fiona and Guide Dog Pepsi, to collect our award – what an honour!”

The Chief Executive Officer of Guide Dogs Andrew Lennox presented the award and a £550 prize.

Devon in Sight has been supporting people living with sight loss for 100 years. We are your local, independent sight loss charity.

Our centenary is a perfect time to join us in making a tangible difference and help empower people living with visual impairments to live fuller, more independent lives.

Together, we can continue to offer vital services that positively impact on those living with sight loss and ultimately realise our vision to make Devon a sight loss friendly county.

It may surprise you to know that Devon in Sight is not part of a national charity like the RNIB or Guide Dogs, and we do not receive any statutory funding. We are independent and fundraise ourselves to make all our services free for you.

Ways you can support us financially include:

Friends of Devon in Sight

Our Regular Giving Scheme 'Friends of Devon in Sight' is the best way that you can support your local sight loss charity. You can give as little or as much as you would like with a monthly direct debit. Please ask for more information.

Donate by Cheque

If you prefer you can also make a one off donation by cheque made payable to 'Devon in Sight' and send it to Devon in Sight, Splatford Barton, Kennford, Exeter EX6 7XY.

Donate by Bank Card

We can take bank card donations over the telephone.
